Formal Asymptotic Methods
for Nonlinear Parabolic Equations

John King

(Nottingham, UK)

Abstract

The role of formal asymptotic methods in characterising the behaviour of singular nonlinear parabolic equations will be illustrated by specific examples is which the small parameter is associated with regularising effects that strongly influence the evolution.